

The Lucy Show

Mr Mooney: Mrs Carmichael

Mrs Carmicheal: Oh! Oh! Well, I'm having trouble with this typewriter

Mr Mooney: Well, you shouldn't have. It's a brand new electric typewriter. A child could run it.

Mrs Carmicheal: Well...

Mr Mooney: Did you put the paper in properly?

Mrs Carmicheal: Of course.

Mr Mooney: Did you hit the keys properly?

Mrs Carmicheal: Yes, I did.

Mr Mooney: Did you plug it in properly?

Mrs Carmicheal: Oh, plug it in! You must think I'm a perfect idiot.

Mr Mooney: Now Mrs Carmichael, this is an electric typewriter.

Mrs Carmicheal: Yes sir.

Mr Mooney: This is the plug for the electric typewriter.

Mrs Carmicheal: Yes sir.

Mr Mooney: And this is the outlet that supplies the electricity for the electric typewriter.

Mrs Carmicheal: Oh Mr Mooney...

Mr Mooney: Now please don't interrupt. Now the electric typewriter will not work without electricity. We must plug it in.

Mrs Carmicheal: Mr Mooney...

Mr Mooney: Please don't interrupt. So we plug this into that...

<BANG!>

Mrs Carmicheal: That's what I tried to tell you. That outlet has a short circuit. Now if you don't mind, Mr Mooney. We plug this into that...

Gee Mr Mooney! This machine is wonderful!
